RS Medical Employee Receives Dorland Health Top People in Health Care National Award

Vancouver, Wash. – October 11, 2010 — Mike Frabotta, R.N., B.S.N., of International Rehabilitative Sciences, Inc., d/b/a RS Medical, has been named the Top Rehabilitation Professional of the Year as one of The Dorland Health Top People in Health Care. The results were announced at last week's Care Coordination Summit in Washington D.C., and are detailed in the October/November, 2010 edition of national health care journal, Case in Point.

"I am honored that my experience allows me to help health care professionals and care managers make informed decisions towards the goal of optimal pain management of their patients" said Frabotta. "It is with great pride that I accept this award. I would be remiss if I did not mention that I see this as the result of a team effort. Our entire organization plays an integral role in our overall company mission and success."

The Dorland annual awards honor proven dedication and clinical excellence in the practice and management of health care services. Professionals in 27 categories were recognized for their creativity, innovation and leadership.

Frabotta is being recognized for his contributions to the development and delivery of nationwide training programs that help payors, care coordinators and clinical account managers support physician care plans that include noninvasive, non-drug, pain management and rehabilitation treatments that patients use at home. He participated as a speaking panelist in a session presented at the 2010 Case Management Society of America's 20th Annual Conference and Expo held June 8-11 in Orlando, Florida. Access to Concurrent Session 2103: Innovations In Pain Management and Home Care: Treating the Sickest Sick is available in the Virtual Extension to CMSA's Annual Conference course offering.

The awards were given in honor of National Case Management Week, which began Sunday, October 10.
